20 A Series C Power Supply

Product Identity

The Honeywell 51198685-100 SPS5710-2-LF is the 20 A power-supply spare identified in the Series C platform specification and Universal Process Cabinet guide. It supports the documented Series C/UPC power arrangement rather than processing field I/O signals.

Verified Reference Points

1. 20 A Series C power-supply role
2. UPC service-spare identification
3. Power-shelf integration
4. Cabinet derating awareness

Signal / System Function

AC input to regulated system DC power; it does not process field measurement or control signals.
